Stephen V. Siana is the Firm's Executive Partner. Mr. Siana is a native of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. His practice focuses on commercial law, including mergers and acquisitions, corporate and partnership matters, real estate, land use and zoning, commercial lending and employment practices. Mr. Siana also has significant experience in the areas of municipal law, insurance defense and estate planning. Mr. Siana has been instrumental in the development of group self-insurance and risk-sharing pools in Pennsylvania in both the general liability and workers' compensation areas. Mr. Siana recognizes that being an effective business lawyer requires more than simply understanding the law; it also requires an ability to work effectively with the people across the table, as well as being responsive and practical. He has achieved a reputation for exemplary business representation by applying his business, accounting and legal disciplines to accomplish the client's goals.
